

An American businessman with cough and fever

Y K Cheung 張裕強, L F Chau 周聯輝

Clinical history:

A businessman who lived in Western Texas of the United States and is now working in Hong Kong presented with cough, fever and progressive shortness of breath for 2 weeks. He had a good past health and was sexually inactive. Physical examination revealed a low grade fever and right cervical lymphadenopathy. Chest radiograph taken following admission and showed some abnormalities.

Figure 1: Frontal view of the chest taken following admission

What is the diagnosis?

- a) Sarcoidosis
- b) Coccidioidomycosis
- c) Pulmonary Metastases
- d) Multiple Pulmonary Arteriovenous Malformations
- e) Silicosis

*See page 220
for the answer*